

Observation and Inference Rap

Kathleen Carroll

An observation is what you know because your senses tell you so.

"I see...," "I feel...," "I smell...," "I hear...,"
Words make observations clear.

An inference is a good guess
It's nothing more and nothing less.

"I think...," "It might...," and "probably..."
Shows it's an inference, you see.
Remember what I'm telling you.
An observation you know is true.

An inference you can't be sure.
It's a good guess, nothing more.
